B. Share capital:

2 640 000 shares were in issue on 1 March 2024.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Shanice Krates (who is also the CEO of the company) owned 1 267 200 shares on 1 March 2024.

Shanice wants to be a majority shareholder; therefore, she arranged an urgent meeting with the board of directors and other shareholders with a significant stake in the company to allow her to buy shares equal to one-fifth of the shares that she already owned. This will enable the company to afford its current debt repayments.

On 31 January 2025, Shanice finally managed to convince the board of directors and other shareholders to allow her to buy shares equal to one-fifth of the shares that she already owned. These shares were issued at a current market price. The remainder of the shares were sold to the public.

A total of R2 100 000 was raised by the company through this issue of shares on 31 January 2025.

QUESTION 4: CORPORATE GOVERNANCE(15 marks; 12 minutes)

Read the extracts carefully and answer the questions that follow. Use your general knowledge of companies and corporate governance to support your answers, if necessary.

The Power of Giving: A Donor's Impact, Beyond the Gift

Amine Traders, a Johannesburg distribution company, had a surplus of food parcels. It is alleged that in a senior management meeting, the CEO proposed donating the food parcels to a local community centre as commitment to support community well-being. However, some managers opposed the idea, and the majority ultimately decided to sell the parcels instead. The decision by the majority seem to have affected the company's results negatively.

4.1 Refer to the information regarding "The Power of Giving: A Donor's Impact, Beyond the Gift".

- 4.1.1 Provide ONE key factor that should be checked before donating items. (2)
- 4.1.2 Explain why it is important for a business to engage in Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR). Provide TWO points. (4)

TASH FINANCIAL SERVICES LTD (TFS)

Tash Financial Services Ltd is failing to attract potential investors due to the company's poor performance. The shareholders discovered from whistle-blowers that the company's poor performance is the result of a lack of competence on the board of directors. The directors of TFS are denying this allegation. According to the King Code principles, businesses are expected to conduct their operations in an ethical and professional manner.

4.2 Refer to information regarding Tash Financial Services Ltd (TFS).

- 4.2.1 Give TWO benefits of good corporate governance for companies. (4)
- 4.2.2 How can businesses apply the King Code principles of transparency and accountability? Provide TWO points. (4)
- 4.2.3 What should directors do if they have a conflict of interest? Provide ONE point. (1)
