E Additional information and adjustments that still need to be considered:

- (a) An amount of R14 000 is still owed by a customer for several outfits that were sewn for her in February 2026.
- (b) The bookkeeper had forgotten to reverse the accrued water and electricity expenses at the beginning of the year. The water and electricity account for February 2026 has been received, but has not been paid. It was 25% more than the account of February 2025.
- (c) The business had forgotten to pay the 3-month advertising contract of R64 500 for the period January to March 2026. The payment was made on 27 February 2026 but has not yet been recorded.
- (d) The bank statement on 28 February 2026 revealed the following, which still needs to be recorded:
 - Bank charges R890
 - A debtor had made a direct deposit of R7 500 to settle his account of R8 000.
- (e) Goods that would have been sold for R18 000 were returned to a credit supplier as they were damaged. The supplier charged Boutique Limited R150 for collecting the goods.
- (f) While reconciling the annual physical stocktaking figures, it was discovered that;
 - Packing material worth R4 000 has been ordered and paid for but has not yet been delivered by the supplier.
 - Packing material used during the year amounted to R41 200.
- (g) Provision for bad debts must be decreased to R95 200.
- (h) Rent income:
 - A new tenant started renting a premise from Boutique Ltd on 1 March 2025. The tenant paid a refundable deposit for breakages of R24 000. The deposit was received but not recorded.
 - Since 1 November 2025, the tenant downsized their shop space, and as such, the rent was decreased by R1 750 per month. The rent is received one month in advance.
 - An amount of R2 000 was refunded from the original deposit due to the decrease in rent. The payment has been made but not recorded.
- (i) The company has four directors, each of whom earns R100 000 in directors' fees each year. Not all directors have been paid in full, as the bookkeeper was unsure of how to record the following, and thus no entries have been made:
 - A director took stock with a cost price of R8 000 for her own use.
 - An old vehicle with a book value of R30 000 was sold to a director for R35 000.
- (j) The loan is repaid annually in quarterly instalments of R25 000 each, excluding interest. Interest is not capitalised.
- (k) After the annual income tax was calculated, an amount of R309 000 was still owed to SARS.

QUESTION 4: AUDIT REPORT AND CORPORATE GOVERNANCE (15 marks; 10 minutes)BRIGHT FUTURE LTD

Bright Future Ltd is a public company listed on the JSE. The company received the independent auditor's report below for the financial year ended 28 February 2026.

REQUIRED:

- 4.1 Identify the type of audit opinion expressed in the audit report. (1)
- 4.2 Explain TWO possible consequences of this audit report for the shareholders of Bright Future Ltd. (4)
- 4.3 Explain the TWO main differences between internal auditors and external auditors. Mention TWO points in each case. (4)
- 4.4 Suggest TWO internal control measures the company could implement to improve control over cash receipts. (4)
- 4.5 Explain how the board of directors should apply the King Code principles of ethical leadership and effective control to address the weaknesses identified. Mention any TWO points. (2)

INFORMATION:Independent auditor's report for the financial year ended 28 February 2026:

"In our opinion, except for the effects of the matter described in the "Basis for Opinion" paragraph, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Bright Future Ltd in accordance with IFRS."

The "Basis for Opinion" paragraph stated that there were material weaknesses in internal control over cash receipts. Supporting documentation for certain cash transactions could not be verified.

During the year, the internal audit department reported concerns about poor division of duties in the finance department. The audit committee met only twice during the financial year.

A shareholder raised concerns at the AGM that the board may not be fully applying the principles of ethical leadership and effective control as recommended by the King Code of Corporate Governance.
