1. SOURCE-BASED QUESTIONS

1.1 The following cognitive levels were used to develop source-based questions:

COGNITIVE LEVELS	HISTORICAL SKILLS	WEIGHTING OF QUESTIONS
LEVEL 1	- Extract evidence from sources. - Selection and organisation of relevant information from sources. - Define historical concepts/terms.	30% (15)
LEVEL 2	- Interpretation of evidence from sources. - Explain information gathered from sources. - Analyse evidence from the sources.	40% (20)
LEVEL 3	- Interpret and evaluate evidence from sources. - Engage with sources to determine its usefulness, reliability, bias and limitations. - Compare and contrast interpretations and perspectives presented in sources and draw independent conclusions.	30% (15)

1.2 The information below indicates how source-based questions are assessed:

- In the marking of source-based questions credit needs to be given to any other valid and relevant viewpoints, arguments, evidence or examples.
- In the allocation of marks emphasis should be placed on how the requirements of the question have been addressed.
- In the marking guideline, the requirements of the question (skills that need to be addressed) as well as the level of the question are indicated in italics.
- When assessing open-ended source-based questions, learners should be credited for any relevant answers.
- Learners are expected to take a stance when answering 'to what extent' questions in order for any marks to be awarded.

1.3 Assessment procedures for source-based questions

- Use a tick (✓) for each correct answer
- Pay attention to the mark scheme e.g. (2 x 2) which translates to two reasons and is given two marks each (✓✓ ✓✓); (1 x 2) which translates to one reason and is given two marks (✓✓)
- If a question carries 4 marks, then indicate by placing 4 ticks (✓✓✓✓)

Paragraph question

Paragraphs are to be assessed globally (holistically). Both the content and structure of the paragraph must be taken into account when awarding a mark. The following steps must be used when assessing a response to a paragraph question:

- Read the paragraph and place a bullet (.) at each point within the text where the candidate has used relevant evidence to address the question.
- Re-read the paragraph to evaluate the extent to which the candidate has been able to use relevant evidence to write a paragraph.
- At the end of the paragraph indicate the ticks (√) that the candidate has been awarded for the paragraph; as well as the level (1, 2 or 3) as indicated in the holistic rubric and a brief comment e.g.

 _____ . _____ . _____ √√√√ Level 2

Used mostly relevant evidence to write a basic paragraph

- Count all the ticks for the source-based question and then write the mark on the right-hand bottom margin e.g.

$$\frac{32}{50}$$

- Ensure that the total mark is transferred accurately to the front/back cover of the answer script.

2. ESSAY QUESTIONS

2.1 The essay questions require candidates to:

- Be able to structure their argument in a logical and coherent manner. They need to select, organise and connect the relevant information so that they are able to present a reasonable sequence of facts or an effective argument to answer the question posed. It is essential that an essay has an introduction, a coherent and balanced body of evidence and a conclusion.

2.2 Marking of essay questions

- Markers must be aware that the content of the answer will be guided by the textbooks in use at the particular centre.
- Candidates may have any other relevant introduction and/or conclusion than those included in a specific essay marking guideline for a specific essay.
- When assessing open-ended source-based questions, learners should be credited for any other relevant answers.

2.3 Global assessment of the essay

The essay will be assessed holistically (globally). This approach requires the teacher to score the overall product as a whole, without scoring the component parts separately. This approach encourages the learner to offer an individual opinion by using selected factual evidence to support an argument. The learner will not be required to simply regurgitate 'facts' in order to achieve a high mark. This approach discourages learners from preparing 'model' answers and reproducing them without taking into account the specific requirements of the question. Holistic marking of the essay credits learners' opinions supported by evidence. Holistic assessment, unlike content-based marking, does not penalise language inadequacies as the emphasis is on the following:

- The construction of an argument
- The appropriate selection of factual evidence to support such argument
- The learner's interpretation of the question.

2.4 Assessment procedures of the essay

2.4.1 Keep the synopsis in mind when assessing the essay.

2.4.2 During the reading of the essay ticks need to be awarded for a relevant introduction (indicated by a bullet in the marking guideline/memorandum), each of the main points/aspects that is properly contextualised (also indicated by bullets in the marking guideline/memorandum) and a relevant conclusion (indicated by a bullet in the marking guideline/memorandum), e.g. in an answer where there are 5 main points there will be 7 ticks.

2.4.3 Keep the PEEL structure in mind when assessing an essay.

P	Point: The candidate introduces the essay by taking a line of argument/making a major point. Each paragraph should include a point that sustains a major point (line of argument) that was made in the introduction.
E	Explanation: The candidate should explain in more detail what the main point is all about and how it relates to the question posed (line of argument).
E	Example: The candidates should answer the question by selecting content that is relevant to the line of argument. Relevant examples should be given to sustain the line of argument.
L	Link: Candidates should ensure that the line of argument is sustained throughout the essay and is written coherently.

This Paper was downloaded from SAEXAMPAPERS

2.4.4 The following symbols MUST be used when assessing an essay:

- Introduction, main aspects and conclusion not properly contextualised ^
- Wrong statement _____
- Irrelevant statement |
|
|
- Repetition R
- Analysis A√
- Interpretation I√
- Line of argument LOA ⇅

2.5 The matrix

2.5.1 Use of the matrix in the marking of essays.

In the marking of essays, the criteria as provided in the matrix should be used. When assessing the essay note both the content and presentation. At the point of intersection of the content and presentation based on the seven competency levels, a mark should be awarded.

- (a) The first reading of essays will be to determine to what extent the main aspects have been covered and to allocate the content level (on the matrix).

C	LEVEL 4

- (b) The second reading of essays will relate to the level (on the matrix) of presentation.

C	LEVEL 4
P	LEVEL 3

- (c) Allocate an overall mark with the use of the matrix.

C	LEVEL 4	}26–27

COMMENT

Some omissions in content coverage.
Attempts to sustain a line of argument.

2.2.5 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 2B–L2]

- Ronnie Kasrils believed that the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale benefited all those involved in the conflict.
- The end of Namibian colonisation and apartheid were seen as outcomes of the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale.
- The peace between South Africa and Angola after the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale opened up new business opportunities.
- Any other relevant response. (Any 1 x 2) (2)

2.3 2.3.1 [Extraction of evidence from Source 2C–L1]

- Thanks to a valiant (brave) defence effort by Cuban and Angolan troops. (1 x 2) (2)

2.3.2 [Extraction of evidence from Source 2C–L1]

- The Cuban propaganda version of this 'heroic battle'.
- It was not until after the war had ended that the facts emerged.
- The Cubans and Angolans were ... already negotiating for peace in Angola.
- with their Soviet backers openly stating that the war there could not be won.
- the South Africans had been the real victors in the Cuito Campaign. (Any 2 x 1) (2)

2.3.3 [Explanation of a historical concept from Source 2C – L2]

- Spreading false information which makes people believe that the Cubans won the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale.
- Any other relevant response. (1 x 2) (2)

2.3.4 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 2C–L2]

- Cubans and Angolans negotiated for peace in Angola.
- The author argued that South Africa had won a decisive military victory at the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale.
- The Cubans claimed that 'hundreds of men' were killed but the author argues that only 31 SADF soldiers were killed.
- The author claimed that the Cubans had failed to defeat UNITA.
- Any other relevant response. (Any 1 x 2) (2)

2.4 2.4.1 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 2D–L2]

- The image reflects South Africa's internal narrative of victory / The SADF won the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale.
- The SADF framed their withdrawal/return as a triumph, despite complex outcomes.
- This message helped maintain morale among soldiers and citizens.
- Any other relevant response. (Any 1 x 2) (2)

2.4.2 [Interpretation of evidence from Source 2D–L2]

- To make the people believe that South African won the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale.
- To get support for the involvement of SADF in the Angolan civil war.
- To appreciate the soldiers who fought in Angola.
- The public celebration demonstrates how the SADF framed their return/withdrawal as evidence of victory, despite contested outcomes.
- Any other relevant response. (Any 2 x 2) (4)

2.4.3 *[Determining the limitations from Source 2D–L3]The source is limited because:

- The source is biased because it supports the view that South Africa was the victor in the war.
- The source is one-sided as it shows only the view of the supporters of South Africa.
- It is propaganda in nature, designed to boost morale, rather than provide factual military detail.
- The photograph lacks context about the broader international involvement (e.g., Cuban and Soviet support), so it cannot explain the full scale of the battle.
- Any other relevant response. (Any 2 x 2) (4)

2.5 [Comparison of similarities between Source 2C and Source 2D–L3]

- Both sources indicate that South African soldiers fought in the battle of Cuito Cuanavale.
- Both sources show South Africa as the winner of the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale.
- The banner “WELCOME WINNERS” in Source 2C supports Source 2D’s claim that South Africans saw themselves as the real victors.
- Any other relevant response. (Any 2 x 2) (4)

2.6 [Interpretation, evaluation and synthesis from relevant sources–L3]

Candidates could include some of the following points in their response:

- Various historians have different views on who the victors were in the Battle of Cuito Cuanavale. (Own knowledge)
- The battle of Cuito Cuanavale was fought from September 1987 to July 1988. (Source 2A)
- The Cubans stopped the SADF from taking over Cuito Cuanavale and its strip. (source)
- Statistics prove that the enemies of SADF suffered more losses than South Africa but this does not mean they won the war. (Source 2A)
- South Africa was forced to grant Namibia Independence and apartheid ended. (Source 2A)
- South Africa could not win the war because of a variety of reasons. (Source 2B)

SECTION B: ESSAY QUESTIONS

QUESTION 4: THE EXTENSION OF THE COLD WAR: CASE STUDY – VIETNAM

[Plan and construct an original argument based on relevant evidence using analytical and interpretative skills.]

SYNOPSIS

Candidates should explain whether they agree or disagree with the statement. In agreeing with the statement, they need to explain how the military tactics adopted by the United States of America succeeded in defeating the Vietcong during the Vietnam War between 1963 and 1975. If the candidates disagree with the statement, they need to substantiate their line of argument with relevant historical evidence.

MAIN ASPECTS

Candidates should include the following aspects in their responses:

Introduction: Candidates should take a stance by indicating whether they agree or disagree with the statement that the military tactics applied by the United States of America succeeded in defeating the Vietcong during the Vietnam War between 1963 and 1975. They should also provide an outline of how they would support their line of argument.

ELABORATION

- Focus on the military tactics used by both the USA and the Vietcong
- Conditions immediately before the war
- The division of Vietnam and the formation of the Vietcong
- Reasons for USA involvement: containment and domino theory
- USA's first intervention in South Vietnam (1957–1963) – sent weapons and military advisors against the Vietcong – passive involvement
- Ho Chi Minh Trail was used by the Vietminh (communist guerrillas from North Vietnam) to support the Vietcong – Helped to supply the Vietcong with food and weapons – made USA tactics to fail
- USA introduced 'Safe Village' policy/Hamlet strategy/Villagisation – trying to isolate/separate guerrillas from villagers (1963)/Safe village policy failed because the Vietcong operated inside villages
- The Gulf of Tonkin incident and resolution (1964)/The USA felt the war in Vietnam was not a conventional war like World War II
- USA sent 3 500 marines on 8 March 1965 and ground troops to Vietnam/ conventional military strategy were confused by guerrilla tactics
- Operation Ranch Hand (1962–1971): use of chemical defoliants, Agent Orange (to destroy the forest) and Agent Blue (to destroy agricultural products and food to weaken the Vietcong)
- Use of chemical weapons made USA unpopular and was condemned by many

This Paper was downloaded from SAEXAMPAPERS

- President Johnson introduced Operation Rolling Thunder in March 1965 to quickly eliminate the Vietcong as quickly as possible
- Guerrilla warfare by the Vietminh and Vietcong (difficulty in separating guerrillas from villagers – farmers/peasants)
- Vietcong responded with the Tet Offensive (1968) – surprise attacks on 100 cities
- Number of USA soldiers killed increased – led to anti-war demonstrations
- Highly effective use of guerrilla tactics by the Vietcong
- USA sent young and inexperienced soldiers to Vietnam
- USA used Search and Destroy missions (My Lai Massacre) to destroy villages supported by Vietcong
- This resulted in large numbers of civilian deaths – which called for more support for the Vietcong
- USA atrocities and My Lai Massacre (March 1968) turned public opinion against the war
- North Vietnam received military support from the USSR and China so the Vietminh and Vietcong had access to some modern weapons
- Guerrilla warfare was effectively used by the Vietcong, supported by Vietminh from the north and used tactics such as booby traps, underground tunnels, hit and run, sabotage
- The Vietcong increased its support base because of the tactics used against the USA soldiers
- The Vietnamese were united in the defence of their country
- Vietnamisation: President Nixon came up with the policy of strategic withdrawal from Vietnam. Also called WHAM (Winning the Hearts and Minds) of the Vietnamese signalled the failure of USA to stop Vietnam from becoming a communist state and its subsequent withdrawal
- USA withdrew all troops by 1973 and President Nixon had signed the Paris Peace Accord on 27 January 1973 – ending USA involvement in the Vietnam War
- North Vietnam took control of Saigon in 1975
- Vietnam was united under communist control/USA military tactics had not succeeded in defeating the Vietcong
- Any other relevant response
- Conclusion: Candidates should tie up their argument with a relevant conclusion. [50]

QUESTION 5: INDEPENDENT AFRICA: CASE STUDY – THE CONGO

[Plan and construct an original argument based on relevant evidence using analytical and interpretative skills.]

SYNOPSIS

Candidates should critically discuss whether Mobutu Sese Seko brought positive changes to the Congo through the political, economic and social policies that were introduced after the country attained independence in 1960. If his policies did not always bring about positive changes, candidates should also refer to the negative changes.

MAIN ASPECTS

Candidates should include the following aspects in their responses:

Introduction: Candidates should take a critical stance by indicating whether policies introduced by Mobutu Sese Seko were able to bring positive changes to the Congo after independence. They should indicate how they intend to support their line of argument.

ELABORATION

Political policies

- Congo became independent on 30 June 1960 with Joseph Kasavubu as President and Patrice Lumumba as Prime Minister. Joseph Kasavubu preferred that Congo be a federal state while Lumumba argued for a strong centralised national government/Lumumba also in conflict with Moïse Tshombé
- Congo started with a lot of political instability – with Tshombé focused on secession of Katanga for its own independence
- Mobutu seized power from Kasavubu through a coup d'état in 1965
- He managed to bring some form of political stability (positive change)
- Mobutu applied authoritarianism to achieve political stability (negative change)
- In 1967 Mobutu managed to stop the Katanga rebellion (positive change)
- Gave his country a new constitution as a one-party state under his party, the Popular Movement for the Revolution (MPR) (positive change)
- Congo became a one-party state within the first five years after gaining independence with all opposition suppressed (negative change)
- Mobutu developed a personality cult/Mobutuism made Congo an autocratic state under himself as a military dictator (negative change)
- He was supported by the USA because he was seen as an anti-communist ally (negative and positive changes)
- He created a strong centralised government and controlled all appointments, promotions and the allocation of government revenue (negative and positive changes)

This Paper was downloaded from SAEXAMPAPERS

- He introduced a policy of Zaireanisation, a policy that replaced skilled foreigners or those occupying strategic management positions with the unskilled locals – which led to maladministration and mismanagement in political leadership roles (positive and negative changes)
- He allowed nepotism (kleptocracy) (negative change)
- Mobutu remained as 'president for life' until his death in 2007
- Any other relevant response

Economic policies

- Nationalisation: Mobutu nationalised the country's copper mining industry and used profits from copper industry to finance his 10-year industrialisation plan (positive change)
- Nationalised foreign owned companies without compensation
- Foreign companies placed under control of his allies and family members (negative change)
- Introduced Zaireanisation (replacing foreigners with Zairean nationals) (positive and negative changes)
- Zaireanisation led to corruption, theft and mismanagement (negative change)
- The economy was characterised by nepotism and elitism which created a big gap between the elite and ordinary citizens/rich and poor (negative change)
- Weak economic policies led to the decline in the state of infrastructure such as roads and other infrastructure (poor economic policies)
- Mobutu created a kleptocracy – wherein a group of appointed public officials abuse their position for financial gain (negative change)
- Mobutu was forced to introduce Retrocession (return of foreign owners) (ineffectiveness of Zaireanisation as an economic policy)
- Very few foreign owners returned
- Increase in the price of oil affected agriculture
- Congo's economy collapsed
- Congo became dependent on foreign aid and investment, e.g. from the World Bank (negative change)
- Any other relevant response

Social policies

- At independence Congo had 14 university graduates out of 14 million people
- Implemented a policy of Authenticité (originally to promote indigenous customs and beliefs) to eradicate colonial influence and unify Zaireans with a sense of pride for own culture. Also referred to as Africanisation (positive change)
- Replaced Christian names with African names, e.g. The Congo was renamed Zaire in 1971;
- Leopoldville became Kinshasa, Elisabethville became Lubumbashi, and Stanleyville became Kisangani; Mobutu also changed his name from Joseph-Desire Mobutu to Mobutu Sese Seko Kuku Ngbendu Waza Banga, meaning, 'The All-Conquering Warrior Who, Because of his Endurance and Inflexible Will Win, Will go from Conquest to Conquest Leaving Fire in His Wake.' (positive changes aligned to de-colonisation)

SA EXAM PAPERS

- Clothing: wearing of western-style suits were outlawed (by a decree) and replaced with 'abacos' (A bas le costumes'), meaning 'down with the suit' (positive change)
- Promoted local music (positive change)
- Mobutu regarded democracy as a foreign ideology to Africa – he ruled as a Chief in a traditional African style and used it to strengthen his own authoritarian position (negative change)
- French remained the language of instruction and education system continued to favour the urban elite (negative change)
- After independence, primary education and school enrolment rose from 1,6 million in 1960 to 4,6 million in 1974 (positive change)/When State funding was withdrawn by Mobutu, parents had to start paying and primary education started to decline (negative change)
- Teachers and hospital staff went unpaid for months due to poor economic and political practices (negative change)
- Poverty increased due to food inflation (negative change)
- Any other relevant response
- Conclusion: Candidates should tie up their argument with a relevant conclusion. [50]
